America's Vacation Center enables iPad bookings

Host agency America's Vacation Center / Avoya Travel made its patent-pending 'Agent Power' technology available and compatible with Apple's iPad.

Independent Affiliate Cindy Jabbour, of Cindave Inc., booked a stateroom using the new gadget and said she will use the mobile capabilities of the new 3G model and the compatibility of Agent Power next week when traveling to Jamaica to make bookings from the beach.

With the upcoming release of iPad 3G, Independent Affiliates will soon be able to access Agent Power on this new device from anywhere, any time, America's Vacation Center said.

'Today's customers are looking to book travel when it's most convenient to them. The combination of our Agent Power technology and the iPad 3G will make it easier for our network to be available for customers, sell travel and manage their independent agencies whenever and wherever they choose.'
